THE FAMILY BIBLE. Bow painfully pleasing the past recollection
Of youthful connexions and innocent joy,
When blest with parental advice and affection,
Berroanded with mercles—with peace from on high.
I cill view the chairs of my father and mother—
The series of their offerring as ranged on each hand,
and that richest of Books which excelled every other,
The Panicy Bitax that lay on the stand—
The old-fathened litble, the dear blessed Bible,
The Panicy Bible that lay on the stand:

That Billothia volume of God's Inspiration—
At more and at evening, would yield us delight,
And the prayer of our sire was a seven invocation.
For mere by day, and protection by might;
Our symme of thanksgiving in harmony swelling,
All warm from the hearts of that family band.
Hair raised us from earth to that rupturous dwelding,
Described in the Billet that lay on the stand—
The old-fishioned. Billet, the dear blessed Bille—
The Family Billet that lay on the stand.

The Family Bible that lay on the stand:

Ye scenes of tanquility, long have have we parted.
My hopes almost gone, and my parent's no more
in sorrow and sadness i live broken-hearted,
And wander alone, on a far distant shore;
Yet how can I doubt a dear Savior's protection,
Forgetful of gifts from his boundful band;—
Oh' let me with patience recieve his correction,
And think of the lible that lay on the stand.
The old-fashioned Bible, the dear blessed Bible,
The Family Bible that lay on the stand.

THE DEMOCRACY OF CHRIS-TIANITY.

In a civil and political sense, we can not discover that the Church regards Christianity in any other light than that of a curb, a bit, a restraint, a means by which the people may be kept in order and in submission to their masters. The clergy, under this point of view, are a sort of constabulary force at the service of the police, and meeting houses a subatitute for police offices, houses of correction, and penitentiaries. Far be it from us to deny the great worth of Christianity in this respect.

We acknowledge the virtues of the possess other and far higher virtues. FOR THE YEAR 1855.

M. M. Ballov, who has added the "Pictorial" from the commencement, having bought out the late proprietor. Mr. F. Glassos, will conduct this popular and widely-circulated paper on his own account. The new volume will be radically improved in every respect, and will be published on finer paper than ever before, which quality will be continued henceforth without change. Many new and popular features will at once be introduced, and the literary department will present an array of talent and interest beyond anything it has before attempted. The illustrations will be finer, and by better artists than have hedre been engaged upon the paper, and altogether the publication will be vastly improved and beautified. Arrangoments have been made for representing during the year views of the most notable buildings and localities throughout the United States, as well as giving likenesses of the most prominent characters, male and founde, of artists and men of genius, such as have by their own industry and skill made for themselves a fortune and a name. In addition to these, various notable European scenes and occurrences will also be given from week to week, forming a brilliant illustrated journal.
